AMONG INDICTED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Wilmington, N. C., October 2.—After the smoke of the battle of its last week's session, the grand jury, which has now concluded its work, looms up as the livest wire ever in this county. Up to this afternoon fifty-three of the sixty-two people indicted as blind tigers had been arrested, and each at once gave a $500 bond. All arrested are men of means, and one, J. G. L. Gleschen, is a member of the county board of education. None of the small fry was indicted, as it seems that the evidence against all of those arrested consists mainly of United States incense and the fact that they receive bin slypments of whiskey or beer. Consternation has been thrown into the camp of the liquor men by a motion in court to remove the cases from this county. The motion will not be argued antil next term of court, and lawyers for the defendants claim they can block a removal for two years by a technicality.

Indictment of the local fish trust has also caused much talk, especially as two ex-Aldermen are among those indicted and arrested.

BULLET PASSES THROUGH HEART

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Winston-Salem, N. C. October 2.—
Walking into his room at the Central Hotel, in North Wilkesboro, just before 12 octock last night, Clarence Prevette, aged twenty-four years and unmarried, placed the muzzle of a revolver to his left breast and fred. The ball passed above his heart, and went through the body. Prevette was alive late this afternoon, but is not expected to survive. He has not been able to make a statement. Despondency is given as the cause of the tragedy.
Prevette is a member of a good familly, and was salesman in his cousin's store. He was drinking heavily last week, but was sober last night when he shot himself.
